

Background

Kayiwa International University (KINTU) is a Christian founded Private University established in 2013. KINTU received its National accreditation from the National Council for Higher Education (NCHC) in September 2015. The primary mission of KINTU is to stimulate and strengthen African intellectual capacities for Research and Development.

Vision

Seeking to transform society through integrated teaching, research and practice.

Mission

Providing quality education for human development.

Director's Message

Anyone with parental responsibility will lose it when an adoption order is made. The same is what happens when the young, parents less influential, are exposed with little guidance to the dangers of the modern world.

Therefore Kayiwa International University aware of the numerous pervasions of integrity of the modern world lays emphasis on safeguarding the university seeking adult in a milieu of ethics, high quality academic expertness and skills that will make them dignified, marketable and worthwhile employers or employees anywhere on the globe.

Prof. Simeon Kayiwa
Director

Our Uniqueness

Kayiwa International University came into existence with a niche in terms of salient elements of uniqueness as depicted by the facets of the focus conveyed by its philosophy, vision, mission and the related objectives.

In connection with the foregoing strands, KINTU shall evolve a uniquely generative pedagogical culture by putting special emphasis on:

1. Exposure of students to a balanced web of cross-cutting courses in their academic programs.
2. Complementing practical sessions designed to enhance knowledge and skills.
3. Promoting intellectual maturity, honesty and humility through reflective and rigorous discourses.
4. Educational experiences that will help students to understand appreciate global realities.

5. Engaging students in rigorous research and community practice.
6. Nurturing students into a culture of public service and community outreach.

Considered organically, the threads of uniqueness, thus for characterized, portray a functional appreciation of and a special emphasis on the learner-centered approach to the university curriculum and the educative process conducive to the promotion of creativity.

Creativity, conceived in its full measure, is the essence of the attitude and behavior of discovery and invention an invaluable quality most needed to revamp and transform the African continent.

All students will enjoy free WIFI while at KINTU
